

INFORMATION FOR MEMBERS

The Australasian Circular Textile Association^{LTD} (ACTA) is Australasia's first collaborative industry body formed to realise full resource efficiency for textiles within Australia.

ACTA was formed as a call to arms for fashion, charity and repurposing sectors to work together to build practical solutions to improve resource efficiency for textiles.

Be part of the change.... Be part of ACTA!

AWARENESS RAISING

Textiles and textile waste is a complicated space and ACTA is committed to raising awareness of this outside of the fashion industry.

The complexity of a take-back program necessitates involvement from partners in waste management, the charity sector, logistics, academia and government. ACTA provides the leadership to align interests across these groups to drive progress toward a common goal.

EMPOWER ACTION

From accountability comes action. The overwhelming support and attendance of ACTA/ACFC events has demonstrated the retailers/ brands are engaged and willing to take action on textile sustainability, but don't always have the tools to do so.

Our goal to 2025 is to provide members and brands the tools they need to manage the components of textiles sustainability and circularity within your control, whilst ACTA works strategically to address those that you can't.

CAPACITY BUILDING

Australia's world leading network of charitable organisations leading clothing recovery already offer a viable means of reuse for many clothing items.

However, there is continued opportunity to build its capacity to handle, sort and process the materials it encounters. ACTA leads coordination between the charity sector, government, brands and customers to maximise and refine this aspect of the reuse economy.

MEMBER BENEFITS

ACTA will provide you with the tools and expertise to transform the way you manage sustainable solutions for your business.

NETWORKING

Close the loop between retailers, recyclers, the charity sector and government. ACTA provides a seamless touch point for the circular management of textiles in Australia.

TEXTILE TAKE BACK

ACTA enables brands to access sustainable practice and advance the standard of clothing recycling overall, reducing the impact of textile waste on the environment.

EDUCATION

ACTA up-skills organisations, industry and consumers, driving the pace of change with a pioneering tool kit.

RESEARCH + INNOVATION

ACTA promotes and funds new and emerging technologies to forward our over-arching vision.

EVENTS

ACTA supports members to build ground breaking sustainability programs within their organisations, meeting and exceeding optimum product stewardship standards.

ADVOCACY

ACTA champions and drives legislative change to support the interests of our members, upgrading industry benchmarks and national standards.

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

ACTA's multi-disciplinary nature means that members require a safe, non-competitive space where information and best practice can be shared freely in order to deliver change. By joining ACTA, members are making a firm commitment to keeping ACTA members' business and ACTA's direct business confidential.

ACTA acknowledges and respects the privacy and confidentiality of its members and stakeholders. All information provided to ACTA is subject to the Association's privacy policy. If a member provides ACTA with information we will collect, store and must only use that information in accordance with ACTA's constitution and the Privacy Act 1988. Members have the right to access and alter personal information collected and held by ACTA.

For the purposes of this section, 'confidential information' includes but is not limited to all trade secrets, know-how, financial information, data and other commercially valuable information of whatever description and in whatever form (whether written or oral, visible or invisible) disclosed by one party to another and includes, without limitation, background IP and other confidential intellectual property. Each party providing confidential information to another member or to the association is and at all times and will remain the sole proprietor of its confidential information;

- Each party has an obligation of confidence in respect of confidential information of all other parties;
 - No party has any licence or right, whether express or by implication, in respect of the confidential information of another party other than the right to use that confidential information in accordance with the provisions of the constitution, a project agreement or another agreement with the association.

THE ASSOCIATION + EACH MEMBER WILL;

- Treat confidential information as secret and confidential and as the property solely of that party;
 - Not use such confidential information for any purpose other than the performance of its obligations pursuant to the constitution, a project agreement or another agreement with the association.
 - Restrict the disclosure of confidential information to those members of its staff and other professional consultants who require confidential information to enable it to perform its obligations pursuant to the constitution and this members charter;
 - Immediately notify the party to whom the confidential information belongs in writing if any person has disclosed or is suspected by it of disclosing or intending to disclose any confidential information to any other person otherwise than in accordance with this clause; and
 - Neither expressly nor impliedly disclose the existence of confidential information.

The Association may suspend the provision of confidential information to a member if it forms the opinion, reasonably formed, that such confidential information is being used for a purpose not related to the Association.
